

Ask days before, not minutes before

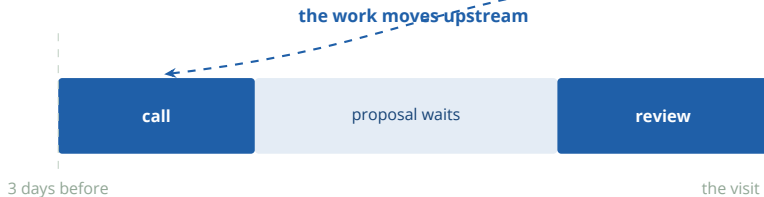

Today

at the visit

With ReconMed

three days earlier

the agent calls

identity, the log read back, side effects, and the protocol's own rules nothing is written proposals are staged; the medication log is untouched until a person signs the coordinator reviews

a draft with its reasoning and every lookup attached

Three days is long enough to ask someone to go and read the label.