

What we do about privacy

Every hosted call has an open model behind it, so the whole call can run on the site's own hardware.

The demo runs the hosted path for latency. Each replacement is built and tested on its own; switching is configuration, not a rewrite.